

Title:	Clinical Neuropsychology
Lecture hours:	15
Study period: (summer/winter)	winter
Number of credits:	4 ECTS
Assessment methods:	The final grade consists of the grade for the examination (60%;) and an assignment grade (40%).
Language of instruction:	English
Prerequisites:	Basic English language skills and interest in clinical neuropsychology
Course content:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Development of cognitive functions in the human life cycle. - Characteristics of cognitive processes. - Neurobiology of cognitive processes - Types and aims of neuropsychological diagnosis. - Diagnostic procedures. - Selected diagnostic methods (interview, observation, non-standardised clinical trials, psychometric tests,) - Neuropsychological assessment of deficits in the areas of memory, attention, verbal functions, visuospatial functions, motor functions, executive functions,)
Learning outcomes:	The student has knowledge of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - the biological basis of human behaviour and is familiar with the findings of neuroscience and neuropsychology. - the characteristics and functioning of cognitive and emotional-motivational processes - neuropsychological diagnosis for different purposes and ways of integrating the results obtained with various research tools - ethical approach to diagnostics
Name of lecturer:	Monika Wiłkość-Dębczyńska
Email address:	mwilkosc@ukw.edu.pl monikawilkosc@gmail.com