

Title:	History and legal systems of indigenous peoples of North America, Australia, and New Zealand
Lecture hours:	15
Study period: (summer/winter)	winter
Number of credits:	5
Assessment methods:	assignment /project
Language of instruction:	English
Prerequisites:	---
Course content:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Vocabulary base</li> <li>2. Legal systems of indigenous peoples of North America <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a) Native Americans in the United States</li> <li>b) First Nations in Canada</li> </ol> </li> <li>3. Legal systems of Aborigines in Australia</li> <li>4. Legal situation of Māori in New Zealand</li> </ol>
Learning outcomes:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Students know history of indigenous peoples in North America, Australia and New Zealand</li> <li>2. Students know legal situation of indigenous peoples in the USA, Canada, New Zealand, and Australia</li> </ol>
Name of lecturer:	dr Anna Garczevska
Contact (email address):	garczevska@ukw.edu.pl
Literature:	Indigenous Peoples and the Law, D.Ferreira de Silva, M. Harrs (eds.)